

Next Up in Public Housing

Develop a transformative model for the redesign, rebuild, and reawakening of public housing in the United States focused on the largest public housing complex, the New York City public housing community by empowering 143,126 Black (42.88%) and 151,770 Hispanic (45.47%) of the total resident population of 333,749 to redefine their relationship with the New York City Housing Authority (“NYCHA”).